

WorkVentures Privacy Policy

The Australian Government introduced new legislation that came into force on 21st December 2001 to protect the privacy of individuals. This legislation comprises 10 National Privacy Principles that apply to private sector organisations. You can find out more about these principles by calling the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner on 1300 363 992 or through their website at <http://www.privacy.gov.au/>

WorkVentures respects and upholds your rights to privacy protection under the National Privacy Principles in regulating how we collect, use, disclose and hold your personal information. Our Confidentiality Policy ensures that only authorised staff have access to your personal information and that it remains confidential and only used for appropriate purposes and in accordance with this policy.

When you access this site, a record of your visit will be kept. The logged information will only be used for statistical purposes. Information provided via online forms may be stored in databases. Your information will only be used for the purpose for which it was provided, and will not be revealed to unauthorised persons.

Your e-mail address will be recorded if you send a message. Your e-mail address will only be used for the purpose for which you have provided it and it will not be added to a mailing list or used for any other purpose without your consent.
